Western Europe: others

In brief

On this site the reader can find about 100 articles with a total of 1.7 million words, not counting (fully written-out) sources, press reports, membership lists with biographies, and outside work. If the information is reorganized a little, it would be possible to publish it in about twenty 300 page books.

Zionist

Largely synonymous with Solntsevskaya Bratva in Russia, various Russian oligarchs, past U.S. mobsters as Meyer Lansky, neocon elements in the Pentagon and CIA, and the U.S.-based Israel lobby. It's quite worrying to see the great overlap between top U.S. officials and the Zionist list.

While the name "superclass" comes from Kissinger Associates managing director David Rothkopf, ISGP's "Superclass Index" is completely independent from Rothkopf's "Superclass List". ISGP's list strictly deals with the amount of NGOs a person has been involved with during his or her lifetime.

About

The NGO Study Center is the core of ISGP. A lot of conspiracy subjects have been added in recent years, but all of that is based on a solid core of research on NGOs - with a few of these private groups standing out. It is in NGOs as the Pilgrims Society, the 1001 Club, the Bohemian Grove, the American Security Council, Le Cercle, the AFIO and the OSS Society that we find almost all individuals accused of being behind just about any 20th and 21th century conspiracy. Thus it has been a very productive and relatively uncontroversial effort to dig up documentation on these groups.

If, like me, you really need solid documentation to hold on to, beginning at ISGP's NGO Study Center could be the best thing to do. It will also provide the reader with a new model of politics that allows for the existence of "grand intrigue". Traditional models taught at school don't adequately look at the supranational globalist network above national governments and therefore literally leave the masses blind to the most influential aspects and individuals of our society. It's time to change that.
